LEAD LEARNER UPDATES - FEBRUARY 2023

STUDENTS MAKING AN IMPACT

Dear Florence Brasser Families:

In addition to the hard work students have been doing in all academic areas, students also participated in the Great Kindness Challenge last week. Each morning student announcers shared two different challenges for the day for students to choose from...simple kind gestures to show caring towards peers or adults. Every class also worked during their SEL time to give back to the community by making cards, bookmarks and stickers for local nursing homes, libraries, coffee shops, and veterans groups. The stickers with kind messages from Brasser students that were delivered to local coffee shops flew out the door on coffee cups throughout our community!

As we wrap up our focus on the Brasser Way focus trait of Compassion, a reminder that we are accepting "Soup-er Bowl" donations of nonperishable food or toiletries through February 10th. Students may place their donations on the table of the team they think will win the Super Bowl....so far Philadelphia is definitely in the lead, but we will keep you posted next week with the final results. Thank you for your generosity - all donations will be shared with several local food pantries.

Lastly, congratulations to Sindis K. and Jess N., the two winners of the School Improvement Team survey gift cards -- we appreciate all the information gained through this survey and are already brainstorming ways to further strengthen family engagement at Brasser.

EXPLORING THE FINAL FRONTIER - SPACE!

Some third graders have been exploring the final frontier - SPACE! Students read the book Good Night Oppy and then watched the movie version to learn all about the Mars Rovers, Spirit and Opportunity. Students are researching the eight different planets and will present their information to their peers. Afterwards, students will design a model of a rover that could gather data from their planet, keeping in mind the knowledge they gathered about their planet. Interdisciplinary learning is powerful - in this case combining Reading, Writing, Speaking & Listening, and Science/Engineering Design. Good luck students!

FBFA UPDATES

Dear Brasser Families,

January was a quiet month for us in the FBFA but as we move into February we are realizing many events are quickly approaching and it is time to plan! On February 13th at 6:30PM we will be hosting our first ever "BRING A VALENTINE to the FBFA meeting" event:). The love we have for our children will be in the air as we discuss upcoming events and share in some Valentine's day themed drinks and treats. So grab another family member, friend or staff and let's make an ordinary FBFA meeting a little more fun. As always, child care will be provided. HERE are the notes from our January meeting and you can find our agenda for February HERE.

Warmly,

Your FBFA Officers
